THROUGHOUT Manitoba, shorthorn cattle bred by Henry F. Washington are well known. They have won ribbons in shows throughout the province. In 1942-3, the Washington herd produced two grand champions—a bull, Killearn Revalants, and a cow, Lady May 2nd. Mr. Washington is a past president of the Manitoba Cattle Breeders Association and of the Manitoba Shorthorn Club. Three days after war was declared, the second of Mr. Washington's three sons enlisted for service in the artillery. Sergeant Gordon Washington has been overseas since August, 1940. The eldest son, Lawrence, is with his father on the farm, the youngest, Glen, 13, is still at school. Mr. and Mrs. Washington have a son-in-law in the R.C.A.F. Mr. Washington has bought Victory Bonds in each of the preceding Loans. In urging you to buy bonds in the Fifth Victory Loan, Mr. Washington says:

"I am sure that Canadian farmers will again subscribe to the limit of their ability in the Fifth Victory Loan. Thousands of boys from Canadian farm homes are serving their country in all parts of the world. The purchase of bonds is one way we can be sure they are properly equipped to carry the fight to the enemy, and speed the Victory.

"There is also the practical reason for buying all the bonds we can: With all our production, we are wearing out machinery and equipment which will have to be replaced. We will want to improve our homes and breeding stock after the war. Those who invest all they possibly can now in Victory bonds will be in a position to do these things."
